Sources and method

- Usual residence topics describe where people usually live, rather than where they were counted on Census night.

SECTION

01

Key takeaway

In 2021, English was the most common language used at home among residents in Byron (A), accounting for 80.4% (28,996 people). This share was lower than Regional NSW (86.8%). Since 2016, the biggest change was in English, which increased by 3,441 people, while its share fell by 0.6 percentage points.

About this topic

Language used at home shows which languages people speak in their home life and whether English or another language is used most often. It is a key indicator of cultural diversity and language retention within communities.

This topic is useful for planning communication, multicultural services, and local engagement. It should be analysed together with proficiency in English and birthplace, because language alone does not show migration history or support needs.

Interpretation notes

- The Census records the language used most often at home, so it does not capture every language a person can speak.
- Language used at home is not a measure of English proficiency, literacy, or migration history on its own.

Language used at home - Ranked by size
