- Usual residence topics describe where people usually live, rather than where they were counted on Census night.

Key takeaway

In 2021, No religion was the most common religious affiliation among residents in Unincorporated NSW, accounting for 43.8% (442 people). This share was higher than Regional NSW (37.4%). Since 2016, the biggest change was in No religion, which increased by 112 people and 12.3 percentage points.

About this topic

Religion records a person's stated religious affiliation, including no religion and not stated responses. It is a measure of cultural identity and belief rather than practice or participation.

This topic helps show the religious diversity of an area and can support planning for community facilities, faith-based services, and inclusive engagement. It is best interpreted with ancestry, birthplace, and language, which together provide a broader picture of cultural composition.

Interpretation notes

- This records stated religious affiliation, not attendance or level of religious practice.
- No religion and not stated are part of the overall picture, so interpretation should consider both affiliation and non-response.
